

A cough that lasts three weeks or more could be a warning sign.
Just contact your GP practice.

If you've had a cough for three weeks or more and it isn't COVID-19, don't ignore it. It's probably nothing serious but it could be a sign of cancer.

Your NHS is here to see you, safely.

For more information visit
nhs.uk/cancersymptoms

Information from the NHS

Help Us Help You – Clear on Cancer

help us help you